The esteemed Chakkulathukavu Temple extends an invitation to all to commemorate the magnificent Goddess Durga. The Pamba and Manimala rivers flow by this 3,000-year-old place of worship, which is located not far from Alappuzha, Kerala. The temple's most well-known event is Chakkulathukavu Pongala, which takes place in November or December. On this special occasion, thousands of ladies join together to prepare and serve the Goddess a delectable food called "Pongala Nivedyam". This delicious treat, made with rice porridge, coconut, and molasses, is treasured by devotees.
